Hendricks Interviewed

INDIANAOPLIS, June 11.—Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks, in an interview concerning Tildens letter of de-clination, said the news did not surprise him, for when he visited Tilden in August last that gentleman very firmly announced his intention to remain permanently out of politics.
On a succeeding visit in April last, the same determination was expressed. Hendricks thought there was little doubt that the old ticket would here been pominated at the Chicago have been nominated at the Chicago convention if it had not been for the convention if it had not been for the declination to-day. He said that the demand for it among the Democracy was almost universal, and greater than any movement of the kind ever seen in politics. Personally he felt no great disappointment; he did not want the office of vice president eight years ago, and did not want it now. If the old ticket had remained in the field he should have considered the election to that place a great honor, conferred by the people, as a rebuke to what they considered a great wrong. It would have prevented the seating of Hayes in 1876 from becoming a precedent for future elections. Hendricks added that only as an expression of the indignation of the pression of the indignation of the people would be have regarded the election to the vice presidency as an honor to be sought.

Railroad Lands.

"A poster has been issued from the land office of the O. & C. railroad, giving notice that the lands of the company south of Roseburg are open for settlement. Settlers must agree with the railroad company to pay such price as the company may desuch price as the company to pay such price as the company may de-mand. At any time the company may warn settlers upon its lands that a settlement must be made with regard settlement must be made with regard to payment for such land. If, after ninety days from the time such warn-ing be published in the Oregonian and a county paper, the settler fails to come to time, the company will sell or seize the land and allow the settler nothing for improvements."

Analysis by Dr. A. Voeicker, F. R. S., Consulting Chemist Royal Agricultural Society, England, shows only a trace of nitrates in Blackwell's Buil Durham Tobacco. The soil of the Golden Belt of North Carolina, in which this tobacco is grown, don't supply nitratesto the leaf. That is the secret of its delicious midness. Nothing so pure and luxurious for smoking. Don't forget the brand. Nonegenuine without the trade-mark of the Bull. All dealers have it.
